WANT PUBLIC PLAYGROUND

Parent Teachers' Association Appoints Committee to Look into Purchase and Equipment of Playground for Town Children.

"At the meeting of the Parent Teachers' Association in the Gettysburg High School building on Friday evening preliminary steps were taken towards securing for the children of Gettysburg a public playground. A committee of three was appointed by the president, Mrs. L. Dow Ott, to take up the matter of a playground and its equipment. The members are Wm. Arch McClean, C. A. Blocher and Calvin Hamilton.

The matter of the need of a public place in which the children of town could enjoy themselves was brought up by Mr. McClean who had the principal address of the evening. He dwelt upon the fact that the first consideration in the child should be its health. Physical culture is needed to make healthy citizens with healthy minds, he said, and called attention to the fact that Gettysburg has no playground, and that the town is growing and should give its best to the children. He made a number of suggestions and called attention to the well recognized fact that a healthy mind in a healthy body makes a happy child.

Prof. Calvin Hamilton and Prof. W. A. Burgoon followed Mr. McClean with remarks favoring the public playground proposition and the motion providing for a committee was made by Mr. McClean, seconded by Mr. Hamilton and carried.

"Home Study" was discussed at Friday evening's meeting by Mrs. E. M. Bender, Mrs. R. C. Miller, Mrs. E. J. Pfeffer, Prof. W. A. Burgoon, R. K. Major and Prof. Calvin Hamilton. Communications were read from Mrs. Johnson, State President, and Miss Garrett, State Secretary, and it was agreed that a ten cent per capita tax be paid to become members of the state and national associations. The reports were given by two of the ladies who have visited the schools and by the treasurer.

The entertainment part of Friday evening's program consisted of a piano duet by Edna Zinck and Ruth Bender; a recitation "Papa and the Boy," by Lillian Kitzmiller; a piano solo by Helen Pfeffer and a vocal solo by Mrs. K. E. Zinn accompanied by Erle Diehl.

The members of the Gettysburg Parent Teachers' Association are:

AERIAL FLIGHT MAY COME HERE

Planning Big Aeroplane Meet which is to Follow Line of National Highway from New York to Atlanta. May Stop here.

An interesting and spectacular performance which Gettysburg people may enjoy is being planned—an airship flight between New York and Atlanta by way of the national highway route. It will be recalled that in the last two years there were two automobile runs between these cities over the route known as the national highway. Gettysburg always being one of the night stops.

It is said that an aeroplane flight is being planned for the same course, a distance of 900 or 1,000 miles. The idea is to have night and dinner stops for the voyagers just as was the case for the automobilists. Huge sums of money will be offered as prizes for the contestants.

Definite plans and details have not been announced but should the project mature we may have a dozen or more flying machines of various sorts and descriptions here this summer for a night. Such an event would be about the biggest thing the town has seen for a while.

It is probable that Gettysburg will be the stopping place on the first night out, the initial day's flight being from New York here.

Even should the flight pass over the town it will be something to make citizens sit up.

Mr. Albright was born and reared in Hampton. During his younger days he was a butcher by occupation. He was aged 80 years, and is survived by nine children, as follows: William C. Albright, New Oxford; Charles Albright, York county; Henry Albright, Gettysburg; Josiah Albright, Hampton; John Albright, York; Mrs. Joseph Strausbaugh, Berlin Junction; Mrs. Daniel Pressel, Abbotstown; Mrs. Henry A. Doll and Mrs. Henry Heil and, York. A step-sister, Mrs. Hoff, also survives.

Funeral at Hampton on Sunday.

CHICKEN THIEVES POISON DOGS

During this week there have been no less than eight fine dogs owned by residents of Carlisle, poisoned and this brutality is believed to be the work of persons recently engaged in the stealing of chickens in Carlisle, or their accomplices.

One of the dogs was the fine Scotch collie owned by the Rev. G. M. Diefenderfer, pastor of the First Lutheran church and well known in Gettysburg. It is known where four of the dogs got the death-dealing stuff, and there will be some arrests.

During the past two weeks there have been wholesale chicken robberies perpetrated in Carlisle, and it is believed that the thieves administered the dose to make their nocturnal visits more safe.

SALTED PEACH TREE

Peter Brown, of Reading township, recently cut down an old peach tree which he planted 23 years ago. For the last twenty years it has been bearing from two to seven bushels of fine Crawford peaches but the last year it had only a few small ones. The tree was 25 feet high and 3 feet in circumference. He kept the tree in a good healthy and thrifty condition by occasionally putting salt to the roots.

GETTYSBURG 28 ALBRIGHT 12

Band Plays at First Home Basket Ball Game of the Season. Local Five Easily Defeats Visitors from Myerstown.

Gettysburg College basket ball team opened its season on the home floor on Friday evening when Albright was defeated with little trouble by the score of 28 to 12. A large crowd attended and the contest had much interest added by the presence of the college band which played before and after the game and between the halves.

Barring a few minutes play the game was slow throughout. The first half saw close guarding on both sides and the play was slow. The half ended at a tie of 8-8 but when the second period opened the home team quickly took the lead.

Breitenreiter went instead of Leathers early in the half and later Dealt went in. The former proved a strong actor in goal throwing and with Brumbaugh and Dayhoff shared the honors. The play at times in this period grew fast and there was some good shooting and passing.

The game generally was ragged and frequent calls of "ball up" took away much of the interest.

The next game is with Franklin and Marshall on Saturday, January 21.

CAPTAIN GEORGE W. MULLEN

Postmaster Captain George W. Mullen of Dillsburg, a former resident of this county, died at his home Thursday morning at 7.30 o'clock, aged 70 years. Captain Mullen's health had been failing for the past year, but he was able to attend his official duties until four weeks ago.

Captain Mullen was a native of Liberty county, Maryland. He removed to Bendersville, where he learned the tailoring trade. In 1862 he enlisted in the army, serving three years, and rising to the rank of captain in the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Pennsylvania Volunteers. On his return from the army he removed to Dillsburg and engaged in business for himself, which he continued for himself until he was appointed postmaster, eight years ago. He had received his third appointment and his present term would not have expired until February 1912.

He is survived by a widow and two sisters, Mrs. George Durbin, of Holyoke, Mass., and Mrs. Hewitt, of Bendersville.

FORTS OPPOSED BY TAWNEY

Emphatic opposition to the fortification of the Panama canal urged, by President Taft, in New York Friday and a declaration by Chairman Tawney, of the house appropriations committee, that great armaments are a temptation toward war marked a joint mass meeting of the New York Peace Society.

"The vast armaments tend to promote a spirit of rivalry among nations to excel each other," said Mr. Tawney. "When it was heralded about the world that England had launched a battleship of 18,000 tons, 3,000 tons in excess of our largest battleship, it seemed advisable to submit to congress a supplemental estimate for a 20,000 ton battleship. As a conclusive argument in support of the authorization of such a ship our chief executive at that time, Theodore Roosevelt, said to me: 'I want to be able to say when I go out of office that I have authorized the construction of the biggest battleship the world has ever seen.'"

RURAL PARCELS POST

A measure providing for a limited parcels post on rural free delivery routes was reported favorably on Friday to the Senate from the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads. The report was presented by Senator Burrows and was the unanimous action of the committee. The measure was that recommended by Postmaster General Hitchcock after he made an exhaustive study of the parcels post problem as applied to rural free delivery routes.

It provides that for one year, beginning April 1, the Postmaster General may authorize postmasters and carriers on such rural routes as he shall select to accept for delivery by carrier, at such rates of postage he shall determine, packages not exceeding 11 pounds in weight, containing no mail matter of the first class and no matter that is declared by law to be unmailable.

ROB WAYNESBORO TICKET OFFICE

During the early part of Thursday night, right on the main street of Waynesboro robbers entered the ticket office of the Cumberland Valley Railroad station, took $63 from the money drawer and made their escape.

The robbery was committed between 7 and 8 o'clock, just after the ticket seller had left for the freight office, only about fifty feet away. Entry was made by knocking a panel from a door with a sledge. As is usually the case, the young man that sells tickets also holds a position in the freight office, where he is employed after the trains pull out, and the money is transferred to the safe in the freight office. Railroad officers have two or three suspicious characters under surveillance.

Rarely if ever do you see a father, whether tiller of the soil, merchant or day laborer, who has taken time from his pressing duties to take an interest in his boy and share in his sports who is later called upon to "give the boy his time"—that is, virtually renounce the responsibilities of a father toward him. Seldom even in such cases is the fault entirely with the parent, but naturally as the elder he is fairly chargeable with the larger measure of responsibility, and time was probably when he failed in his duty to the boy along the lines suggested.

With the manure spreader costing from $90 to $125, depending upon make and capacity, every farm on which an attempt is made to follow agriculture intelligently and effectively should have one. The question is not whether one can afford to buy one, but, rather, whether he can afford to be without one.

The young fruit tree should be pruned during the winter or early spring months if the object is the encouragement of wood growth and the building of a proper frame. If the trees are old enough to bear and one wishes to induce such a result the pruning should be deferred until midsummer, preferably during the month of July.

Mrs. Charles Gilbert, 128 W. Middle Street, Gettysburg, Pa., says: "My health was poor as a result of disordered kidneys. ## DEADLOCK AT DOVER IS BROKEN AT LAST

Republican Senators Vote For Democrat For President.

Dover, Del., Jan. 14.—The deadlock in the Delaware state senate was broken by the Republican members, whose choice for president pro tem, was opposed by their colleague, Senator Louis A. Drexler.

The Republicans cast their votes for Senator Thomas M. Monahan, of Wilmington, leader of the Democratic minority, and elected him.

This result was not entirely unexpected. It was known that the Republican party leaders were unwilling not only to submit to Drexler, but to permit him to name a Democrat for president pro tem. The election of a Democrat by the Republican votes was the only alternative, and this was finally determined upon.

The Republican senators issued a signed statement explaining their action as one of "placing patriotism above partisanship," and stating that they voted for Senator Monahan without any intimation to him of their purpose. The statement also contained the details of an agreement entered into with the Democrats for a non-partisan selection of the committees of the senate.

WOMEN "MALE PERSONS"

Oregon Voters Forced to Obey Law in Registering.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 14.—Approximately 4000 women in Seattle have sworn they are "male persons."

The form of vow adopted by law for administering to citizens the oath of registration states that the person being sworn is a "male persons."

It has not been changed by legislative enactment, although women have been enfranchised in Washington, and those taking part in the present registration have subscribed to an oath that makes them "male persons."

While there is some evidence tending to show thatilage fed steers do not possess quite as firm flesh as those dry fed on hay or corn fodder, there is at the same time no evidence tending to show that a silage fed steer brings any less when fitted for market than one given the dry feed. This is a question that may have arisen in the minds of many who are about to build silos for dairy and stock feeding purposes.

MOTORED WITH MRS. SCHENK

Music Clerk Tells of Her Visits to Him.

HUSBAND DID NOT KNOW

Witness Declares Her Frequent Visits to Store Embarrassed Him and He Met Her Elsewhere—Chemists on the Stand.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 14.—More sensational testimony was given in the trial of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, accused of poisoning her husband, John O. Schenk.

Dan Phillips, a music store clerk, whose name has frequently been mentioned in connection with Mrs. Schenk, was the principal state witness. Phillips testified that he knew Mrs. Schenk intimately and that he had frequently taken automobile rides with her at night in her car.

Three times while the witness was asked questions by State's Attorney Handlian bearing upon whether or not he had been criminally intimate with Mrs. Schenk, he declined to answer, standing upon his constitutional rights to refuse to answer any questions that would incriminate himself.

Witness Refuses to Answer.

"You mean to say, Mr. Phillips," said Judge Jordan, "that you decline to answer because you would incriminate yourself?"

"Yes, sir," replied the witness.

"Then you need not answer," returned the court.

Phillips' acquaintance with Mrs. Schenk began when she called at the store where he was employed to buy a musical instrument. Phillips said she came back to the store frequently to talk to him, and finally invited him to go autoing. Her visits, he said, became so embarrassing that he finally requested her not to come to the store, and then he arranged to meet her at designated places outside. He said:

"Frequently Mrs. Schenk spoke to me about her husband, and I remember that several times she said she didn't think he would live very long. So far as I know Mr. Schenk never knew that I took automobile rides with his wife."

Other witnesses included Dr. O. W. Burdett, Mr. Schenk's dentist; Herbert O. Baer, a druggist; Professor J. W. Mallet, chemist of the University of Virginia; Florence Coleman, a colored servant in the Schenk home, and Mrs. F. L. Hupp and J. T. Thornton. Much of their testimony was a repetition of what had been brought out previously and was devoid of interest.

Tested Schenk's Blood.

Dr. Thornton made three tests of Schenk's blood and as many of his urine, finding symptoms of lead and arsenical poisoning in all tests.

Dr. Thornton admitted under cross-examination, however, that the same symptoms might have been found if the patient had taken large quantities of mercury or bismuth into his system. Dr. Thornton will be recalled to the stand, when the state will propound to him a hypothetical question.

Professor Mallet testified that in the water he analyzed he found eight-tenths of a grain of arsenic to the pint. The arsenic was in the form of Fowler's solution.

By the testimony of Dr. Hupp and Mr. Baer it was established that the water analyzed by Professor Mallet was the same that came from the Schenk home, and was taken from the same bottle from which Schenk had drunk.

State's Attorney Handlian has promised another thrilling sensation. He said that he would probably put on witnesses to prove absolutely that Mrs. Schenk put acetate of lead and arsenic in her husband's medicine and drink.

That the defense to be put up by Mrs. Schenk's counsel will be a deliberate one had been indicated by Mr. O'Brien, who declares that his client is the victim of a conspiracy, designed to enable her husband to get a divorce.

Bank Embezzler Gets Two Years.

Saco, Mich., Jan. 14.—Richmond H. Ingersoll, former treasurer of the York County Savings bank, of Biddeford, which was closed on Aug. 12 last, was sentenced by Judge Peabody in the supreme court to serve two years in the county jail at Alfred. Ingersoll pleaded nolle to two counts of the indictment returned against him last fall, charging the embezzlement of $300 and $1000 respectively.

Trolley Men Threaten to Strike.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 14.—Unless the Schuylkill Railway company, which operates lines through the Mahanoy and Shenandoah valleys, yields to a demand of the conductors and motormen for an increase of 25 cents a day and a 50 cent per cent increase for overtime, the lines will be tied up by a strike. This is the ultimatum delivered by the trolley men's union.

Private Banker a Suicide.

Connellsville, Pa., Jan. 14.—Arpad Gozcel, whose foreign bank suspended in Pittsburgh, has committed suicide at the home of a friend here.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free. J. C. HENNEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

THE CZARINA VERY ILL

Has Lost Interest in Everything But Son, Whom She Sees Hourly. St. Petersburg, Jan. 14.—Though the fact has been kept secret, it is learned on the highest authority that the czarina is again critically ill and that on that account all court fetes have been postponed.

The improvement noticeable after she took the cure at Bad Nauheim was followed by a serious relapse. Partial paralysis attacked the czarina's feet and is extending to her legs and arms.

The doctors cannot give any reason for her condition except nervous strain nor can they suggest any treatment.

The czar, overcome with grief, is in constant attendance on the czarina, doing everything in his power to rouse her from the state of depression into which she has permanently fallen. She shows interest in nothing except the czar's health, fears for whose safety haunt her day and night. The boy has to be taken to her room every hour during the day so that she may satisfy herself that he is still living.

The court is again plunged into gloom while the life of the imperial family is dull and sorrowful in the extreme.

GORE SAYS LAND GRABBERS LIED

Blind Senator Declares Charges Against Him Are False.

Washington, Jan. 14.—"My experience has demonstrated how much easier it is to remain silent and secure peace than to wage war against wrongdoers of a certain character," said Senator Gore, of Oklahoma.

The blind statesman was making his closing statement to the house committee investigating charges of attempted bribery in connection with legislation bearing upon contracts of certain western attorneys with the Indians, calling for large fees.

"My fate has been the common fate of every man who makes such a disclosure as I felt compelled to make to the senate," said the senator. "I knew that all that malice and money could do to discredit me would be done; and the results have justified my anticipations."

Senator Gore characterized the counter criticisms against him as a "prodigality of perjury." He said that he believed silence on his part would have cost the Indians millions of dollars. As it is, he believed the Indians had been saved at least three or four million dollars.

Cecil Smith, who closed the arguments in behalf of J. F. McMurray, of Muskogee, former attorney for the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations, said the evidence proved that if Jacob Hamon made a proposition to pay $25,000 to Mr. Gore in return for his influence in congress, the offer had been made as a joke. Else, he said, Hamon proposed to get Gore's support for his own bill, and then make a deal with McMurray whereby the latter would ultimately "pay the freight."

Cut Off His Own Arm.

Bellefontaine, O., Jan. 14.—To save his life, Charles Deaton, a Champaign county farmer, cut off his own arm with a pocketknife. He was caught in a corn shredder and his companions found that they were unable to release the arm without taking the machine apart. Deaton realized that he must bleed to death unless he was freed from the machine's grip. He performed the operation with a wonderful display of nerve.

Hard Luck Pursues Navy.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Another link has been added to the singular chain of accidents which have befallen United States naval vessels within the past week. The big armored cruiser Washington has blown out the high pressure port cylinder head. As a result she is now en route from the Caribbean to Hampton Roads for repairs. There were no casualties.

Farm and Garden

LOOK OUT FOR APPLE SCAB.

One of the Most Destructive Diseases.
Passes Winter on Leaves and Fruit.
According to a circular issued by the Virginia agricultural experiment station, scab is one of the most common and destructive diseases of apples and pears. A very similar disease affects quinces. It passes the winter season on leaves and diseased fruit, attacking the young foliage, bloom and fruit very early in the growing season. The foliage is browned and "blighted" by the disease. All fruit attacked at this stage drops or falls to develop. Later there is a secondary attack on the half

(From circular, Virginia agricultural station.)

grown fruit, which disfigures it with gray and black blotches and "clouds"
to such an extent that it renders the fruit unsalable. Spraying with Bordeaux or lime sulphur (summer strength) before the bloom opens, supplemented by one or two later treatments at intervals of from ten days to two weeks, will prevent the development of this disease.
The winter wash of lime-sulphur if applied for scale just before buds begin to swell aids the further treatment
very materially.

Winter Feeding of Teams.

How to feed the team most economically, especially when there is no work
for them, is a good deal of a problem. If there is any place where wheat or oat straw can be economically fed it is to this team to supply a part of the filling and fiber. This, with well made clover hay and corn or timothy hay and oats, will keep them in good condition and maintain their muscles.
It has been found economical to have the grain finely ground for horses over twelve and under five years of age.
The teeth of young and old horses will not usually allow them to thoroughly masticate whole grain; hence there is a loss either of grain or flesh or both.
Farm and Fireside.

The federal government has taken a band lately in a movement to stop the sale of impure food in some eastern cities. As a result bad eggs, known to the trade as "rots and spots," have tumbled in price from about $2 to 25 cents a case. It was found that these were used quite generally in the manufacture of confectionery and bake-shop stuff.

Arbitration as a means of settling neighborhood differences and disputes does not give to either party that "get even" type of satisfaction that one of them might feel in the event of a lawsuit, but there is no getting around the fact that it promotes neighborliness and good feeling in the long run and does not entail such a heavy toll in the matter of court and attorneys' fees.

There is just one kind of proposition that is more costly to finance than a red automobile, and that is an ill advised case in justice or district court where a greedy lawyer or two have got hold of the steering gear. It is a mighty well to do follow that can afford this type of entertainment, and even such a one will do well to have all of his real estate listed in his wife's name.

There may be times when it seems worth while trying to save a few dollars a month in the hire of a man who is to do nothing but operate a manure spreader, but it is folly usually to attempt it in the case of the man who is to care for and milk the dairy cows,
as the loss in milk and butter fat due to carelessness and rough treatment will usually offset many times the amount saved in the wages of man.

MOTHER ADMITS POISONING SON

Forced Carbolic Acid Into His Mouth and Fled.

CONFESSES WHEN ARRESTED

Mystery of Lad Found Dead In the Marshes Near Albany, N. Y., Cleared
Up by Police.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 14.—"Yes, I did it; I don't know why, but I was distracted and wasn't aware of what I was doing."

These were the first words of the confession to poisoning her four-year-old boy, George, with carbolic acid in the suburbs of Albany about ten days ago, that Mrs. George Melber, or Mrs.
Edith Melber, a Schenectady widow,
made to Chief of Police Quigley.

She was placed under arrest by detectives when she appeared in the baggage room to identify her little trunk.
The officers had been waiting for her appearance for about five hours, having received a phone message from Albany giving a description of the woman, the fact that she had her trunk checked from Schenectady.

When she asked for the trunk one of the detectives told her she was under suspicion of having stolen jewelry concealed in the trunk. They told her it would be necessary to take her to headquarters, and after protesting against such a course as an outrage,
she resigned herself.

Breaks Down and Confesses.

The young woman told many conflicting stories as the investigation proceeded and finally broke down and confessed that she was the mother of the boy found near Albany, and then she admitted that she had poisoned him.

She told a pathetic story of how she had tried to have the child cared for in various institutions in Albany, but had failed because she had been unable to pay for his maintenance. She said that she had to work for her living since her husband died about three years ago, and that she found it difficult to do this and care for the child also.

After visiting the Albany Home for Children, she said, and being unable to place him there because none of the officials were present, she became discouraged. It was then, she said, that she decided to dispose of the child.

Going to a drug store, she bought 10 cents worth of carbolic acid. Then she boarded a suburban car and went to Schenectady. After walking into the country a distance to the marshes, she finally forced the carbolic acid into the boy's mouth and fled.

A detective came from Albany to take the woman back there.

Mrs. Melber remained in Albany, where she was employed as a domestic,
until the boy's body was found and the story appeared in the newspapers. Next morning she drove off alone in a cab, and it is learned took a train for the west, checking her trunk to Rochester.

FAMOUS PICTURE SLASHED

Discharged Naval Cook Damages "The Night Watch" in Amsterdam.

Amsterdam, Jan. 14.—Rembrandt's
most famous picture, "The Night Watch," was badly damaged by a discharged naval cook, named Sigrist, who entered the Rijks museum and with a knife deliberately slashed the masterpiece.

Sigrist, who was arrested, declared that his vandalism was an act of vengeance against the state because of his discharge from service in the navy.

The cuts traverse the principal figures of Captain Franz Banning Cocq's company of arquebusers, but art experts express the opinion that the damage is not beyond repair.

Harmon to Fly Over Isthmus.

New York, Jan. 14.—Clifford B. Harmon, the millionaire aviator, has returned to America from Europe full of determination to fly across the Isthmus of Panama in his biplane. While in France he bought a new machine with a seventy-horse-power revolving engine. The flight will be made from the deck or a steamship and is scheduled to take place in March. An engineer who recently inspected the route reported that it was full of unusual difficulties.

lieved that her career as a saloon million gallons of refined oil during

CLARK'S MANSION.

Ex-Senator and Family Move Into Their New $7,000,000 Home.

CLARKS INTO NEW HOME

Former Montana Senator Is Now Living In $7,000,000 Mansion.

New York, Jan. 14.—William A.
Clark, one time United States senator from Montana, is now living in his $7,000,000 mansion at Fifth avenue and Seventy-seventh street, which has been under construction for the last eight years.

It is said that the palatial dwelling is the costliest private residence ever

STEPSON IN BATTLE FOR EDDY FORTUNE

Seeks to Prevent Transfer of Any Personal Property.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 14.—In addition to the bill in equity in the matter of the will of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, filed in the superior court for Merrimack county by George W. Glover, of Lead, S. D., a bill was filed in the United States circuit court in behalf of Dr. Ebenezer J. Foster-Eddy, which covers substantially the same grounds
so far as the legal points involved are concerned.

An order is asked restraining the Eddy trustees from removing from Merrimack county any of the personal property of the Eddy estate, estimated to be $2,000,000 in value.

It is pointed out that in her will Mrs.
Eddy described herself as of Concord, N. H., and the statement is made that the construction of a will disposing of personal property depends alone upon the law of the domicile of the testator.

The bill recites the various marriages of Mrs. Eddy and says that her only child by those marriages is George W. Glover, of Lead, S. D. Dr.
Foster Eddy avers his relationship to Mrs. Eddy was that of an adopted son and says that this relationship is and has been recognized by George W.
Glover. The latter and Dr. Foster
Eddy, it is asserted, are the only heirs
at law.

Other matters, some covered in the bill filed by George W. Glover, and in other documents already published, are taken up, as well as details necessary to be alleged to bring the matter within the jurisdiction of the federal court.

The "body" was placed in a death

physicians say that he has a good chance for recovery.

FIVE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Life Ground Out of Sleeping Passengers.

15 HURT AND 3 MAY DIE

Disregard of Signals Cause of Rear-End Collision Between Express
Trains at Batavia, N. Y.

Batavia, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Five passengers, probably asleep in their berths aboard the New York Central railroad's Boston and Buffalo westbound express, No. 49, were ground to death as that train stood at the Batavia station.

Three other passengers were probably fatally injured and twelve more were hurt, some seriously.

The locomotive of train No. 23, the New York Central's western express, struck the rear of No. 49 with such force that the rear car of train 49, a sleeper, crumpled before the impact.
The locomotive crushed through the entire length of the sleeping car into the day coach ahead, but nearly all the victims were in the sleeper.

The locomotive was reduced to wreckage, beneath which the five dead were found. The bodies were so badly mutilated and live steam played such havoc with their features that early identification was impossible.

Disregard of signals by the engine-man of the western express caused the wreck, according to a statement issued by Superintendent Everitt, of the western division of the New York Central.

Here and there passengers in the sleeping car were trying to crawl from the entangled mass. Many of them could not move until beams had been cut away.

H. H. Cade, of Chicago, had a frightful experience. Succeeding in getting his head and shoulders through the side of the shattered car he found that he had slipped against the hot boiler. Calling attention to himself with a loud cry, he doubled up unconscious. Rescuers repeatedly tried to scale the side of the boiler, but could not endure the heat and steam.
Finally axes and hooks were brought into play and the man was pulled down.

The impact of the colliding locomotive had lifted the Pullman car from the track and hurled it through the side of a baggage shed adjoining the Batavia station. Several of those rescued were reached through holes cut in the roof over a compressed mass of wreckage. During this necessarily slow work stimulants were administered to the injured.

It was only after a steam crane had been brought into use that some of the more seriously injured and the bodies of the dead could be removed.
Three of the dead were directly beneath the boiler of the engine.

KILLS HUSBAND AND HERSELF

Mother Finds Her Son and His Wife
Dead in Their Room.

New Castle, Pa., Jan. 14.—James Pritchard and his wife were found dead in their room at the home of Pritchard's father, a farmer, living near here, by the man's mother.

The couple had been quarreling during the night and arose early. The elder Mrs. Pritchard was about to leave her room when she heard a pistol shot and her daughter-in-law
screaming:

"I have shot Tom and I am going to kill myself."

Another shot was heard, and Mrs.
Pritchard ran to their room, where both lay dead.

THE SCRATCHED BULLET

By RUTH GRAHAM

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

A man sitting in his office heard an explosion. He was counting a pile of bills at the time, but as soon as he had finished and thrust them in his safe he went in next door and found the occupant, Daniel Jones, sitting in his chair with his head down on his desk, dead.

My office was in the same building and hearing of the murder I went into Jones' office. A surgeon was extracting the bullet from the wound, and as soon as he had done so it was seized upon by a detective who stood waiting for it. The detective rolled it up in his handkerchief and was going away with it when I said to him:

"I believe you detectives are humbugs, making a great ado about small things to keep up an appearance of efficiency. I'll bet you a hundred dollars to ten that the bullet you have taken never leads to the discovery of the murderer."

"Since you offer large odds I'll take your bet. I think in about one case in ten the bullet with which a man is murdered will lead to the discovery of the person who shot him."

"Very well," I replied, "if it is so in this case come to my office, tell me the story, and I'll give you a hundred dollars."

We exchanged names and addresses and I thought no more about the matter till I saw it stated in a newspaper that a man had been tried for the murder of Daniel Jones. The jury had not been ten minutes in coming to a verdict of justifiable homicide. The very next morning the detective with whom I had made the bet came into my office and claimed a hundred dollars. I invited him to be seated and told me the story.

"I examined the bullet with a microscope," he said, "and discovered a tiny scratch on one side, and, looking further, found another scratch twice the breadth of the first about one-third the distance around the circumference. If I could find a pistol with two specks in the barrel at such distance from each other to make those two scratches on a bullet fired from it I would have the weapon with which Mr. Jones was killed."

"The next move was of course to learn of a person or persons who would have a motive for the murder. The family of the murdered man were very loath to point a finger of suspicion at any one, and I had a hard time to get anything out of them. Jones had a debtor, Evans, whom the family admitted to have pressed so strongly for payment that the two had quarreled bitterly about the matter. Then there was a discharged coachman who at the time of his discharge went away muttering curses. These were the only suggestions I could get from the family, and I went to work on both of them at once.

"I effected an entrance to the house of Jones' debtor and found a pistol in his drawer, but of a different caliber from the one with which he (Jones) had been killed. Besides, from other indications I made up my mind that he had nothing to do with the murder. I also found the coachman who had been discharged, but no pistol in his possession.

"I sat down one day, lit a cigar, put my feet up on a desk and did a job of thinking. I can think out any solvable problem with a cigar in my mouth and my feet in the air. The murderer, after shooting Jones, would naturally be worried about the pistol with which he committed the deed, since it might be used as evidence against him. Even the fitting of the ball in it, considered with other incriminating circumstances, might convict him. He would endeavor to get rid of it. How? He would either try to lose it, give it away, sell it or pawn it. I rely greatly on criminals' anxiety to get rid of incriminating articles. There was a chance in this case that the pistol would find its way into either a second hand store or a pawnshop. I concluded to go through all there were of both in the town.

"In a pawnshop I found a new revolver, only one barrel of which had been used, that had been pawned a day or two after the Jones murder. I focused the sun's rays in the barrel with a glass and thought I saw some scratches, but could not be sure. I bought the pistol, loaded the barrel that had been used and fired the ball into a tank full of water. Recovering the bullet I found on it the scratches I was looking for."

The detective paused, and I, taking up my checkbook, wrote him a check for a hundred dollars. Handing it to him I remarked that the rest of his job was doubtless dead easy, but I would like to hear how it was managed.

"I was not long," he continued, folding the check and putting it in his pocketbook, "in finding the person who had pawned the revolver. He was a tramp and said he had been walking on a road toward the city and met a man in an auto driving furiously. The tramp turned to look at the registered number and made a mental note of it. Just then he saw the man in the auto throw something away. He went after it and found a revolver.

"Taking it into the city he pawned it. The man who threw it away was identified by his auto number.

"Jones had broken up his domestic happiness by alienating his wife's affections."

The meaning of A. R. O. is "advanced registry, official." The expression is used in the breeding associations for milk and butter records made under official supervision and practically vouched for by the association. #### THE GUERNSEY POPULAR.

Breed Has Won Public Favor by High Class of Product.

The foundation of the Guernsey breed of dairy cattle was laid amid the surroundings of the economical dairy conditions prevalent on the Island of Guernsey. The introduction of the Guernsey into this country was induced by a realization of the high class of her dairy products, writes W. M. Caldwell in the Breeder's Gazette. First she came into the hands of the private estate owners, who were desirous of the rich and highly natural colored products for their own use. Gradually as this desirable characteristic of the Guernsey was better known she was more sought for.

The first real public introduction of the Guernsey was at the World's fair

The Guernsey cow Dairymaid of Pinehurst holds the world's three-year-old record. She produced in one year 14,522 pounds of milk and 890 pounds of butter fat, making 1,093 pounds of butter. This cow is owned by W. W. Marsh, Waterloo, Ia.

In 1893. This and the Pan-American model breed test at Buffalo in 1901 are possibly the best instances of public rating which the products of the dairy breeds have ever had. In the Buffalo tests the Guernsey cows were awarded the prize for net profits in butter fat and the prize for net profit in churned butter. They not only showed the greatest profit, but also made butter at the least cost per pound and returned the greatest profit for every dollar invested in feed.

To the American Guernsey Cattle club belongs the credit of establishing the first measure of utility of the breed of cattle upon the basis of actual production of butter fat and that for one year's time or a period that shall test the true worth of a dairy cow. During the last six years 1,112 records have been made. These show an average of 8,051.20 pounds of milk, 409.75 pounds of butter fat and 5.121 per cent of butter fat.

Besides the dairy breed test which has been referred to, the latest one in which the public has been interested is that of the great Iowa state dairy cow contest. In this the Guernseys have led. The three cows producing the greatest amount of butter fat during the year were Guernseys. This is but another corroboration of the sterling qualities of the breed.

How to Feed Oilmeal.

Oilmeal may be fed to all classes of farm stock. Fattening steers will use to great advantage from two to three pounds of oilmeal daily in connection with other feeds. Feeding oilmeal in the form of nut sized cakes is considered preferable to the loose meal by most of our steer feeders. Dairy cows will consume one or two pounds of oilmeal daily with their grain rations, and during the winter feeding period more or less oilmeal is almost indispensable in order to keep the cows in the best condition for producing milk and butter fat. For growing calves, sheep and hogs oilmeal can constitute about one-tenth of the grain ration fed and prove very beneficial. Horses may be fed small quantities, although its general use for horses is not recommended.—Professor Humphreys in Wisconsin Bulletin.

Moldy Corn Produces Staggers.

The Kansas experiment station has just issued a bulletin giving results of experiments to determine the cause of blind staggers in horses. It is not certain which micro-organism present in moldy corn produces the trouble, but it comes from that kind of corn. No matter which one is responsible, we can avoid it by feeding only sound grain to horses and using moldy stuff for less sensitive animals if it is used at all.

Men Wanted

No Man Over 45 Need Apply.

There's the sign that's getting to be a common thing in America.

Corporations are retiring men at 50. They are not hiring any over 40.

A bald-d man often looks 10 years older than he is.

A man with gray hair always does.

It is important nowadays that a man look as young as he is; it is vastly important that a man having a family dependent upon him should take care of his hair.

If you have dandruff—get rid of it by killing the germs.

If your hair is falling out—stop it.

If your hair is turning gray—don't waste any time.

There is one sure remedy that will cure these misfortunes and aid you to remain young.

Parisian Sage, the great Hair Restorer is guaranteed to permanently remove dandruff in two weeks, or your money back.

Parisian Sage stops falling hair—it prevents the hair from turning gray.

Parisian Sage is sold and rigidly guaranteed by The People's Drug Store and druggists everywhere. Price 50 cents a large bottle.

Cooking Utensils Imperfect.

Helen Louise Johnson of Springfield, Mass., a lecturer and writer, admits that men manufacture instruments for cooking, but she does not think they deserve any praise. She says men have no conception of the needs of cooks, but simply make cooking utensils in the sublime belief that women will be delighted to use anything that mere man may make. Fireless cookers, she thinks, are terribly awkward things. "Nearly all the cooking appliances in the civilized world," she says, "are made by man for women. Originally not only the methods, but the means of cooking, were developed by women, who were the creators of industries. Man has invented the machinery of the household, but he has given women a crude, imperfect article and demands of her a finished product from it. He made the cook stove, large, clumsy, and it wastes at least one-half of the fuel. It disseminates odors, gives out excessive heat and requires time in watching it that could be utilized in other ways. Then he says to woman: 'You are the consumer. It is up to you to use one hod of coal where two were used before. In this way only can the supply of coal be made to last.'"

It is as often true of farm animals as of human beings that where there is lack in the matter of shelter there is also carelessness in respect to the bill of fare.

If the hens are not where they have access to it or its equivalent, throw them a bunch of that fragrant alfalfa or clover hay and see how greedily they will go after it.

A NEW HAVEN CHILD

Restored to Health by Vinol—Cause Interests Many Parents.

"My little daughter ever since her birth had been frail and sickly, and was a constant source of worry. Several months ago I secured a bottle of Vinol and commenced to give it to her. I immediately noted an improvement in her health and appearance. I gave her three bottles of Vinol, and from the good it has done her I can truly say it will do all you claim, and I want to recommend Vinol to any one who desires to build up a weakened, run-down system."—J. Edmund Miller, New Haven, Conn. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

This child's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cods' livers, aided by the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol,—and the strongest evidence that Vinol will build up and strengthen delicate children, old people, and the weak, run-down and debilitated, is our willingness to return the purchase money in every case where it fails to give complete satisfaction.
